GRADED LISTS

THE LIBRARY SCHOOL
OF THE
UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS

OF

BOOKS FOR SCHOOLS

IN THE

TRAVELING LIBRARIES

---

1905

---

ISSUED BY THE
PUBLIC LIBRARY COMMISSION
OF INDIANA

---

INDIANAPOLIS:
WM. B. BURFORD, CONTRACTOR FOR STATE PRINTING AND BINDING.
1905.

The Public Library Commission of Indiana has purchased for the Traveling Libraries the books in these graded Lists of Books for Schools. Any library or school may obtain the use of these books by filing with the Commission its application and prepaying the round trip express charges.

Eight sets of books suitable for recreative reading in each of the grades have been selected with reference to an orderly progression, though the pupils in any given grade will often find interesting some of the books named for the next lower and the next higher grade.

The Commission advises Public Library Boards to purchase the entire collection; therefore, the publisher and price of each book is added. These are only suggestive, as the larger libraries may be able to purchase better editions, while the schools and smaller libraries will wish to substitute cheaper but good editions, such as are to be found in Burt's Home Library series, Rand-McNally's Independent series and Little, Brown & Co.'s Readable series.

Most of the illustrated books are to be found only in the editions quoted; if such books are to be placed in the schools they should not be removed from the building or handled except with clean hands. This will have a tendency to increase the pupil's respect for the books and arouse interest in artistic illustrations.

These lists have been used to advantage in the Commission's Normal School Courses dealing with methods of instructing pupils in the use of libraries.

The Commission will be pleased to receive from those using the following preliminary lists, suggestions as to their future improvement and reports on their value as judged by actual practice.
